a Record of the 75th Year
of Progress at MILLSAPS

More than classroom work, dormitory life or extracurricular activities, the meaningful college experience involves the tireless efforts of an interested behind-the-scenes personality whose unceasing patience and genuine concern for every student make college life worthwhile. It is in Mrs. Glenn Pate that we find such a person.

Through the past years, we have come to know and love her—to respect her fairness and untiring spirit in co-operating with all the students. One cannot enter her office without feeling welcome, or leave it without feeling benefited. With sincere respect and appreciation for her ever-available assistance to all students and organizations, we proudly dedicate the 1967 BOBSHELA to our Dean of Women—

Biology Gives Panorama of Nature's Creations

Our civilization is so completely permeated with science that the word "scientific" has become the hallmark of progress, the dominant theme of the age. No human endeavor is considered worthwhile unless it has a scientific background. Within the realm of science biology permits travel in the domain of living things. Through lecture and lab work the Biology Department accomplishes its purposes of presenting the basic principles underlying life phenomena and correlating these principles with human living.

GLORIA JEANNE ROGILLIO; Instructor of Biology; B.S., M.S., Northeast Louisiana State College.

Chemistry Stresses

Theory, Technique

"I do not know what I may appear to the world; but to myself I seem to have been only like a boy playing on the seashore, and diverting myself in now and then finding a smoother pebble or a prettier shell than ordinary, whilst the great ocean of truth lay all undiscovered before me." — Isaac Newton

The Chemistry Department stimulates the spirit of quest for knowledge in those students taking any of its nineteen courses. In the strict majors it renews as well as creates a spirit of determination which serves to drive that student toward higher levels of understanding.

CHARLES EUGENE CAIN; Professor of Chemistry; B.S., University of North Carolina; A.M. Duke University; Ph.D., Duke University.

Economics Aids Students With Business Interests

SAMUEL JOHN NICHOLAS, Jr.; Assistant Professor of Economics and Business Administration; A.B., A.M., University of Mississippi; LL.B., Jackson School of Law.

The social science which might seem to be least involved with social conditions is economics and business administration, but one of the aims of the department is to equip students with a more adequate understanding of modern economic society in order to assist its members in becoming intelligent citizens of the communities in which they live. The department also seeks to provide a thorough, basic foundation for specialized graduate or professional study and to give students who expect to enter the business world a broad background and some of the fundamental information which will contribute to their success in their later lives.

The curriculum of the Millsaps economics department follows the pattern recommended by the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business. For those interested in accounting, the Millsaps curriculum offers the opportunity to take courses in all the subjects covered in the Certified Public Accountant examination. Graduates of this study are permitted to take the CPA examination without the usual requirement of two years of apprenticeship experience.

Education Courses Give Experience, Background

The student studying education is preparing himself for that moment when he will take his position as a molders of the minds of tomorrow. His preparation grows as he becomes involved in the educational courses offered to him and buds forth as he actually steps into the classroom as a student-teacher and observes and works with eager young students. Realizing the great responsibility which lies before him, the student prepares himself to meet his challenge with the desire to help others learn and become the tomorrow of our nation.

It is a reality in the fast-moving and competitive world of today that there is an eminent need for qualified teachers and personnel - yesterday, today and tomorrow. The Department of Education at Millsaps is striving to attain this goal by providing vast opportunity for the development of skill, self-reliance, and those inner resources which lead to self-mastery and happiness. Under the direction of Dr. Robert E. Moore, this department has continued to progress toward a goal of excellent service.

English Department Instills

Appreciation of Language

Emphasizing creativity while instilling in students an appreciation of great literature of the world, the Department of English has three major purposes: to give all students proficiency in the writing of clear and correct English; to give to all who wish to pursue electives in this department a deep understanding and appreciation of selected authors and periods of literature; and to provide, for those who wish to teach or to enter graduate school, adequate preparation and a thorough background for specialized study.

Fine Arts Courses Stimulate Skills, Appreciation of Art

Devotion to the development of the skills and the appreciation which make art meaningful — this is the aim of the Millsaps' Fine Arts Department.

For the student interested in art, Millsaps offers the opportunity to study with one of the South's most outstanding artists, Karl Wolfe. Work by Millsaps students is exhibited annually by the Municipal Art Gallery in Jackson. This year the students were invited to display their work at the Fine Arts Festival and for the first time the art department offered a course in printing.

The Music Department is also in the process of expansion. During the year 1967 the music department will offer for the first time a bachelor of Music degree. Other majors offered are in Music Education, Organ, Piano, and Voice. Included in this expansion program is an increase in the size of the staff. In the field of music, a student is offered extracurricular hours through the choirs and band. These outside activities often bring with them the opportunity to travel on choir tours.

Courses Offered In Two Fields

Geology and Physics

Geology is the science of the earth itself. It is history written in the rocks. By using the present as a key to the past, geology helps to unlock the mysteries of the environment.

Geology is a relatively young science which had its beginning in 1785. The field of geology has two major divisions: physical geology, covering the nature and properties of the materials which compose the earth, and historical geology, a record of life on the earth and physical changes on the globe itself from its beginning two billion years ago up to today.

Courses offered in the physics department are designed to provide a solid foundation in all areas of physics for the student who intends to study at the graduate level; to provide a firm physical interpretation of natural phenomena for the student who intends to enter the field of medicine; to provide a thorough explanation of basic physical principles and the opportunity to specialize in a chosen area for the student who intends to terminate his study upon graduation; and to provide an introduction to both the theoretical and the experimental aspects of physics for all interested students.

DONALD EUGENE FAULKNER: Instructor of Physics; B.S., Millsaps College; M.S., University of Rochester.

History Emphasizes Events in Their Intellectual Light

The development of democracy, from its early idealism in the minds of philosophers to its successful experiment in the United States and its dismal failure in the French Revolution, to the changes in interpretation of the meaning of the term as Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, and Franklin D. Roosevelt altered its practical applications — such is only one of the varied concerns of the Department of History at Millsaps.

History courses have been planned so that the student may follow the casual relationship in human development. Emphasis is placed on the progressive organization of social, intellectual, and moral ideas of peoples and nations.

Shrinking World Requires Study of Foreign Tongues

In the age of rapid travel and faster communication, the knowledge of foreign languages becomes increasingly important. An awareness of the growing necessity for study in the area of foreign languages has lead Millsaps to require a minimum of two years of a language from each of its students. In order to meet this requirement, the students may choose from French, Spanish, German, Latin, and Greek.

The study of Greek and Latin affords a rigorous exercise in the scientific method, producing habits and reflexes of accuracy, efficiency and system.

The German and Romance language Departments have been set up to give those students taking their language requirement a firm basis in grammar and an introduction to the literature of the language.

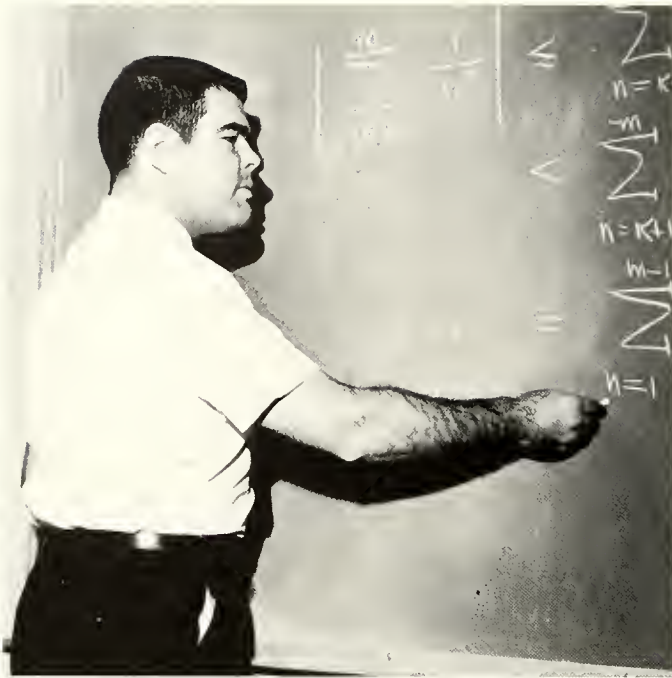

NELLIE KHAYAT HEDERL; Associate Professor of Spanish; A.B., Mississippi State College for Women; A.M., Tulane University.

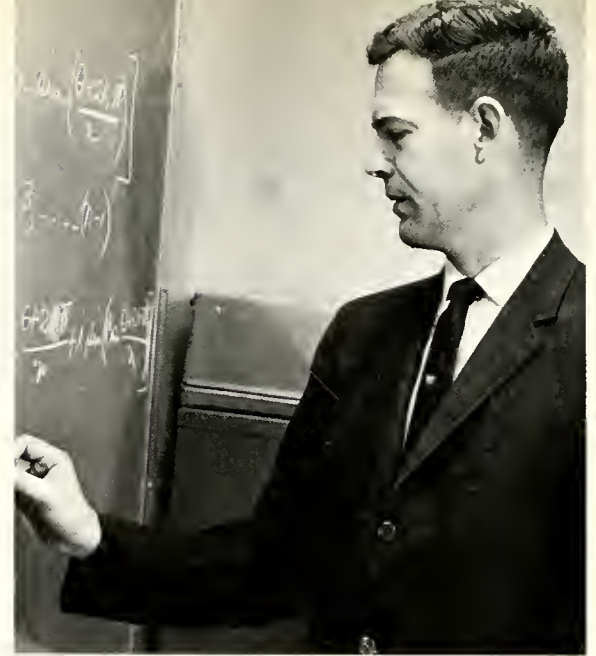

ELIZABETH CRAIG; Professor of French; A.B., Barnard College, Columbia University; A.M., Columbia University; Diplome de la Sorbonne, Ecole de preparation des professeurs de francais o l'etranger, Faculte des Lettres, Universite de Paris; Advanced Graduate Work, Columbia University; Palmas Academicas.

Math Students Perceive a Language of Numbers

Fe, fi, fa, and fum are the contributions of the mathematics department to the Spirit of '67. These syllables are illustrations of the counting system used in the New Math. A college course for elementary education majors in the teaching of the New Math has been introduced by the mathematics department in the last year.

In addition to this course Millsaps offers twenty-two other mathematics courses to interested students. The range of these courses is from a foundation course on the basic principles to a seminar, a one hour session in which each senior mathematics major discusses a new phase or method in his field.

At Millsaps mathematics is treated as an art. A student is taught to study mathematics for the sheer interest in comparing, analyzing, and visualizing by the capable members of the department: Dr. Knox, Mr. McKenzie, Mr. Anderson, and Mr. Ritchie.

Millsaps' curriculum intends to fill the needs of those who proceed to the usual academic degrees, as well as for those students who take an incomplete academic program. Mathematics offers a means of expressing the relations between numbers, possibly unknowns.

ARNOLD A. RITCHIE; Associate Professor of Mathematics; B.S., Northeastern State College of Oklahoma; M.S., Oklahoma A.&M. College; Advanced Graduate Work, Oklahoma A.&M. College and the University of Tennessee.

SAMUEL ROSCOE KNOX; Professor of Mathematics; A.B., A.M., University of Mississippi; Graduate Work, University of Michigan; Ph.D., Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Philosophy Pursues Wisdom Through Logical Reasoning

In our modern day and age one subject basic to our culture is philosophy. It is now defined as an analysis through the grounds of and the concepts expressing fundamental beliefs, the pursuit of wisdom, and the search for truth through factual observation.

There are four Methodist colleges requiring a minimum of six hours of philosophy for a B.A. degree, and Millsaps is one of these. One hundred six colleges were surveyed by the President's Bulletin Board in an effort to determine what most Methodist colleges require in the department. The requirements ranged from two to six hours, with most colleges listing three hours.

ROBERT E. ANDING; Associate Professor of Religion; Director of Town and Country Work; A.B., Millsaps College; B.D., Emory University; A.M., Mississippi College.

THOMAS WILEY LEWIS, III; Assistant Professor of Religion; A.B., Millsaps College; B.D., Southern Methodist University; Ph.D., Drew University.

ROBERT EDWARD BERGMARK; Professor of Philosophy; A.B., Emory University; S.T.B., Ph.D., Boston University.

Religion Courses Afford Stronger Basis for Faith

In order to keep up with the progress made at Millsaps College during 1967, the religion department instituted a new program. Seminar meetings were held once a week at which time students presented papers for discussion. These meetings aided the student in understanding the various aspects of religion.

As an institution of the Methodist Church, Millsaps College feels that religion is an essential part of education and that education is necessary to religion. The course of study is developed to give the student an understanding and an appreciation of the Bible, and show the place of organized religion in life and society.

CLIFTON D. BRYANT; Associate Professor of Sociology; A.B., A.M., University of Mississippi; Graduate Work, University of North Carolina; Ph.D., Louisiana State University.

WILLIAM PELTZ; Professor of Sociology; B.S., University of Columbia.

Sociology, Psychology

Enables Man to Understand His Nature

Not all sciences have laboratories with test tubes and Bunsen burners as do the physical sciences. Social sciences, like psychology and sociology, take as their laboratory man and the world in which he lives.

The main objectives of the Department of Psychology are to help students gain a better understanding of themselves and others with whom they live and work and to develop more objective attitudes toward human behavior; to give a foundation for graduate work and professional training in psychology; and to provide courses which are basic for successful professional work with people.

Through the offerings of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology an average student may find knowledge about human-group relationships which will be useful to him as a person, parent, citizen, or worker. For some students sociology will not be a career but merely a part of their academic backgrounds. Whatever career they choose, from medicine to law, there will be a need for the understanding of people.

As long as man, his mind, his environment and his society are constantly changing, then the study of psychology and sociology will also be a changing and unpredictable study.

JAMES A. MONTGOMERY; Chairman of Physical Education; Basketball Coach; B.A., Birmingham Southern College; M.A., George Peabody College for Teachers; D.Ed., George Peabody College for Teachers.

HARPER DAVIS: Instructor of Physical Education; Head Football Coach; B.S., M.Ed., Mississippi State University.

Physical Education

Develops Mind and Body

Under the guidance of Coach Montgomery, Coach Davis, Coach Ranager, and Miss Edge, the physical education department provides leisure, education, healthful exercise, and the development of recreational sports skills which have continuous value for teaching or personal use both in college and in the future.

In the physical education program each student can find something in which he can excel. The activity courses, two of which are required for graduation, include golf, bowling, tennis, and other common recreational sports.

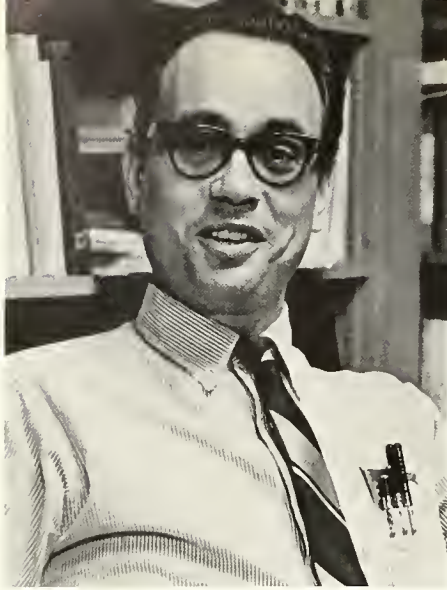

In addition, various academic courses are furnished for teaching preparation purposes. Physical education for the elementary grades explores characteristics of elementary school children and activities suited to their physical and mental levels. The theory of high school coaching and a course in athletic officiating for men are offered to future basketball coaches and those interested in football or basketball officiating. Finally, personal health and care of the body are studied in hygiene.

MARY ANN EDGE; Director of Physical Education for Women; Assistant Professor of Physical Education; B.S., M.S., University of Mississippi.

TOMMY LAVERNE RANAGER; Instructor of Physical Education; B. S., Mississippi State University.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS: Associate Professor of Political Science; B.A., Rice University; M.A., Texas Western College; LL.B., University of Texas.

HOWARD BAVENDER: Instructor of Political Science; B.A., College of Idaho; M.A., Wisconsin University; Graduate Work, University of Texas.

Department Emphasizes Government, Politics

The general objective of the Department of Political Science is to acquaint students with the theory and practice of government and politics. Primary attention is focused on the American political system.

The department is headed by Mr. John Quincy Adams, who is now acting chairman. He assumed this position when Dr. Henderson, last year's chairman, accepted a fellowship in the office of the governor of Arizona.

The Department of Political Science works toward helping students achieve an intelligent understanding of the contemporary world and the responsibilities placed upon citizens in a democracy. The knowledge gained in the study of political science provides a useful background for further work in government service, law, or politics.

ORVEL HOOKER: Assistant Professor of Speech; Director of Forensics; B.A., Ouachita University; S.T.B., S.T.M., Temple University.

LANCE GOSS: Associate Professor of Speech; Director of the Millsaps Players; A.B., Millsaps College; A.M., Advanced Graduate Work, Northwestern University; Special Study, The Manhattan Theatre Colony; Summer Theatre, The Ogunquit Playhouse and the Belfry Theatre; Cinema Workshop, The University of Southern California.

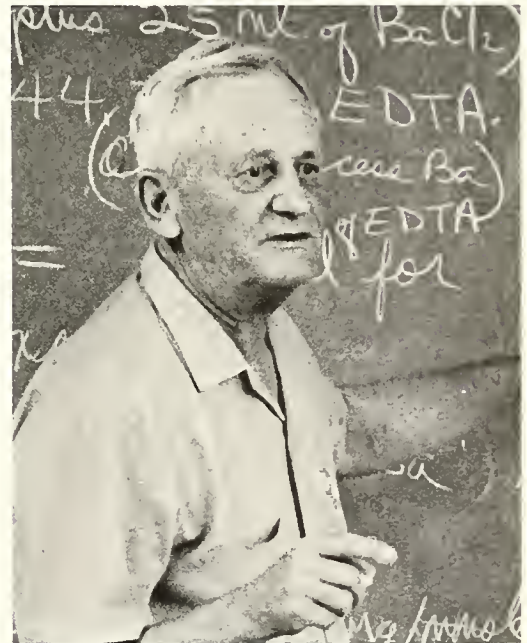

Speech Department Stresses Communication with Others

The greatness of a person is often measured by his ability to express himself. The development of this trait is one of the major goals of the Speech Department. The opportunity for this development is found in various courses including Public Speaking, Debate, Phonetics, and Interpretation of Drama.

Highlighting the efforts of the Speech Department are the Debate Team and the Millsaps' Players. Debate Coach Orvel Hooker is responsible for the Millsaps Invitational Debate Tournament held each year as well as other tournaments held throughout the country. Mr. Lance Goss, Director of the Millsaps' Players, has been very successful in transferring the interest in Speech from the classroom to the state. These two events make it obvious how essential the Speech Department is to the successful spirit of Millsaps College.

Millsaps, realizing the value of speech in education, has required this course for graduation in many departments. In this way speech plays an important role in helping Millsaps contribute to society, ministers, teachers, and others whose public orations will be a credit to the college, to the community, and to the state.

ACTIVITIES

Senate Voices Student Opinion

Serving as the legislative body of the Student Association, the Student Senate meets weekly to discuss student problems. The senators consist of delegates from each social organization, the independents from each dormitory, independent commuters, married students, and delegates elected by the entire student body.

Activities of the Senate this year include revision of the constitution, study of an Honor System, improvement of food services, and supervision of campus elections. The four standing committees coordinate Student Union affairs, social activities, special entertainment and parking regulations.

After much discussion and careful consideration, the Senators vote on the issue under consideration.

As chairman of the Committee on Study of the Honor System, Sen. Freddy Davis presents his report.

W.S.G.A. Governs Women's Activities

The Women's Student Government Association serves as the governing body of the women resident students on the Millsaps campus. Composed of dormitory assistants, monitors, dormitory presidents, housemothers and representatives from each women's social organization, the group meets monthly to determine policy concerning the role of the Millsaps woman. The organization is responsible for making and enforcing the regulations and restrictions of the women students. Mrs. Glenn Pate, Dean of Women, serves the group as advisor.

This year the W.S.G.A. sponsored such activities as open houses in the dormitories, fire drills in the women's dormitories, a coffee for the freshman women, a trim-the-tree party at Christmas, and a style show featuring the ten best dressed coeds. The inauguration of a penny-a-minute night not only provided the Millsaps coeds with an extra one o'clock night but also helped the W.S.G.A. make the money that is necessary to carry on its projects.

Bobashela Records Activities of Students at Millsaps

"Bobashela," the Indian word for "good friend," is an excellent name for this book because it is hoped that in years to come this edition will revive in you the memories of a good year. The staff has worked hard this year trying to capture the events that have meant and will mean the most to the students. The work of the staff this year, as every year, is the hectic work of selling ads, trying to make the pages and pictures come out evenly, and trying to meet a deadline on the day of finals.

Purple and White Voices Views of Note in School and Nation

Collaboration, initiative, and a mind of one's own help to plan the weekly edition of Millsaps' student voice, a voice often clamouring to be heard. Students with an interest in journalism, hard work, and an inclination to contribute to opinions currently in vogue volunteer to staff the P&W. Pertinent topics are discussed, and printing of conflicting opinions is the paper's policy.

Letters to the editor, society, and visitors of importance to the campus are recorded and reported upon by eager young aspirants to staff positions. Photographers Jim Lucas, Ronnie Davis, and Mike Hughes with Russell Ingram as cartoonist contribute to the format. Many students remain with the PURPLE AND WHITE throughout their years at Millsaps, and upon being graduated, find their minds more open and their senses a bit more keen.

Students Compose Anthology of Literary Works

Stylus is one of the best college literary magazines in the South. It is an anthology of the literary works of campus short-story writers, poets, playwrights, and essayists. Published twice yearly, the Stylus provides a wonderful chance for Millsaps students to enjoy an inspiring potpourri of literature and to offer congratulations to the authors who have contributed to this anthology.

Publishing the STYLUS this year were Gary Carson, Business Manager; James Golden, Editor; and Charles Swaope and Lana Cannan, Associate Editors.

Major Facts Serves as a Guideline for Students

Major Facts, a small book edited by Millsaps students, is a miniature encyclopedia of traditions, general information, and rules and regulations ranging from academic requirements to the type of clothing which may or may not be worn on the campus. The editor of Major Facts is under the supervision of the Dean of Students and is appointed by the student body.

Harry Shattuck, editor of MAJOR FACTS.

Organization Cultivates Ideals of Christian Living

The Young Women's Christian Association is one other activity designed to promote the interdenominational program on the Millsaps Campus. This national organization adheres to Christian ideals and high standards while striving to develop better women and better Christians.

Under the leadership of Pam Moore, the members have entertained their "little sisters" from the Methodist Children's Home at the annual weenie roast and the Feast of Carols. Special interest was shown to the children this year as each member purchased a Christmas gift for her "little sister."

Through fellowship and projects the members of the YWCA promote Christian ideals and standards.

Serving as officers of the Circle K are Alec Valentine, secretary; Sam Rush, president; Buddy Williamson, vice president; and David Atwaad, treasurer.

Circle K Renders Service

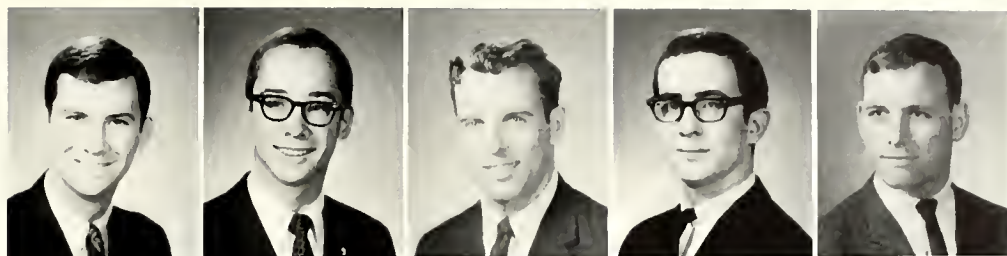

Bannie Fuller, Circle K Sweetheart.

The Millsaps Circle K, a newly organized service group jointly sponsored by the college administration and the Jackson Downtown Kiwanis Club, is open upon petition to all men on campus who are interested and qualified. Members are chosen on the basis of leadership ability and willingness to work. The purpose of the Circle K is to serve the school and community in keeping with the highest ideals of the American way of life. This organization performs various services to the school as needed.

Advising the Circle K are Dr. Ray Berry and Mr. Jay Hedgepeth.

Council Co-ordinates Religious Activities

Co-ordinating and planning all inter-denominational religious activities on campus is the Christian Council. Membership is composed of the presidents and one elected representative from each religious group on campus. The Council is responsible for Holy Communion services held in Fitzhugh Chapel at noon on Thursdays and religious services before various holidays throughout the year. A Religious Emphasis Week following a theme selected by the group is also sponsored by the Council each year. An additional responsibility of the Christian Council is the printing and distribution of programs for every Chapel service.

League Provides Fellowship and Opportunities

The Ministerial League is an inter-denominational group composed of all those students seeking a career in the Ministry. The league serves to encourage fellowship among the pre-ministerial students and to acquaint them with the problems confronting the ministers of today.

Experience also is gained as each member has the opportunity to serve in nearby churches, the Methodist Children's Home and local hospitals. In recognition of the best sermon given by a Millsaps student, the Charles Betts Galloway Award is presented on Commencement Sunday.

Religious Groups Serve Church, Campus

Baptist Student Union

Features Local Service

The Baptist Student Union on the Millsaps College campus serves as the connecting link between the student and his church. B.S.U. holds weekly meetings at which time programs designed to encourage and challenge the students to live a better Christian life are presented.

In addition to presenting weekly programs the Baptist Student Union in conjunction with the Baptist churches in the Jackson area provides transportation to and from church each Sunday. A progressive dinner, which provides an opportunity to tour the churches in the city, has become an annual event of the B.S.U.

Methodist Student Movement

Supports U.N.I.C.E.F. Drive

The Methodist Student Movement is designed to meet the needs of students on the Millsaps Campus. M.S.M. provides fellowship through challenging programs and discussions which are designed to broaden ideas. The projects undertaken by this group include collecting for U.N.I.C.E.F. at Halloween, caroling shortly before Christmas holidays, and doing volunteer work with the children at the Methodist Children's Home. This year the M.S.M. has brought many interesting speakers and films to the campus which have given the students a deeper insight into the current theological and secular problems of our world.

Missy Gilliland, Mike Drane, Ruth Hart, Charlotte Hart, Clyde Watkins, Pat Smyth, Kim Kimble.

Catholics Form Active Religious Club

The newly organized Newman Club has become an integral part in the lives of the Catholic students on the campus. Under the able leadership of Mike Drane many interesting guest speakers have been brought to the Millsaps campus for roundtable discussions. For the first time this year mass has been offered to the student body at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter. By working with the other denominational youth groups on campus, the Newman Club has helped provide the Millsaps students with opportunities for Christian growth and development.

Deutscher Verein Instills Interest in Teutonic Language, Customs

Deutscher Verein members Scott Harriss, Clint Cavett, David Clark, Doug McCollaugh, Gerald Harper, Sara Jordan, Ann Varner, Herr Guest, Wayne Babin, Sue Lowery, Peggy Weems, Dan Chin, Steve Reed, Kay Stauffer, Kathryn Grabau, James Woods, and Sara McDavid.

Once a month, students and teachers interested in Germany, her language, her people, and her customs meet to discuss these mutual points of interest. Deutscher Verein is open for membership to all, and the agenda for the meetings always contains some Germanic overtone. President Sara McDavid, vice-president James Woods, treasurer Kathryn Grabau, and secretary Kay Stauffer lead the group and contribute to discussion through reports, films, and soliciting of informed guests.

The films are nearly always in German, are usually travelogues, and give the viewers a fairly candid insight into German life and customs. Guest speakers are those who have done extensive research or who have traveled in Germany and Europe. One of the highlights of the year for the Deutscher Verein is the Christmas season, when German food is eaten, and the dorms are serenaded with, of course, German Christmas carols.

For students who are exemplary, there is the Schiller Gesellschaft. The lucky student, not always a German major, who has the proper point index and an inquiring mind, is invited to submit a paper on some aspect of the German life and culture. Upon acceptance of the paper, he is admitted to the German honorary.

Resolved: That the United States should substantially reduce its foreign policy commitments.

In one of the best seasons in ten years, the Millsaps debating squad argued this topic, both pro and con, so successfully that they left not a single tourney without some trophy to show for their exemplary labours. The Razorback Tournament at the University of Arkansas yielded Robbie Lloyd third place in oratory, Mary Ann McDonald a finals rating in extemporaneous speaking, and Rebecca Jackson and Clyde Lea outstanding speaker records.

Sponsor Mr. Orvel Hooker led the young team (only one member, champion speaker David Fleming, is a junior) from joust to winning joust at the Arkansas State Teachers College, Louisiana College, Mississippi State, Mississippi State College for Women, Little Rock, University of Southern Mississippi, and as far north as Wisconsin for a strenuous week of public speaking.

Regardless of his personal feelings about the current topic, each team member must effectively present or prove and substantiated argument on either side of the question. The debate club members also participate in various platform contests, such as extemporaneous speaking and oratory.

Talent and Versatility Characteristic of Concert Choir

One of the groups comprising the Millsaps Singers is the Concert Choir. Open to all students by audition, this group provides the members with an opportunity to explore many types of music ranging from the classics of Mozart to such popular selections as "Seventy-six Trombones" from The Music Man.

This choir, directed by Mr. Leland Byler, is not only one of the most popular groups on campus, but throughout the entire state. Besides participating in the regular campus programs such as the Feast of Carols, the Concert Choir has sung at various churches and schools in the state, the Governor's mansion, and has taped programs for local television stations.

Having completed a tour of the Southwest and parts of Mexico last year, the choir plans a spring concert tour through Mississippi and surrounding states. Select members of this group, the Troubadors, will take part in a USO tour through the Caribbean in the spring also. Millsaps is proud to have such fine representation, not only locally, but nationally and internationally.

"Amahl" Presented for First Time

On December 16th and 17th members of the Concert Choir, other students, and Millsaps faculty and alumni presented "Amahl and the Night Visitors". This opera, produced for the first time on this campus, may well become a tradition.

Millsaps' production of Amahl featured Paula Page and Stacy Jenkins.

Feast of Carols Highlights Fall Semester

The Chapel Choir is open to all students without audition. This group annually joins the combined campus musical organizations in presenting "The Feast of Carols" and a spring concert. It also presents special music for the weekly chapel. Membership earns two semester hours of extracurricular credit for the year's work.

Troubadours Tour Again

Three years ago, Mr. Leland Byler, director of the Troubadours, sent a tape to the National Music Council which sponsors USO tours to Europe. They liked the music, and the Troubadours were invited to tour France and Germany for two months as part of the USO program. This summer the Troubadours will again make a tour—this time to the Caribbean.

Employing choreography and accompanied by instruments currently used with folk and secular music, the group presents a variety of popular, folk, and semi-classical numbers adopted in lively and colorful styles. The biggest job for Mr. Byler is finding music to use which is "desirable and catchy". Membership in the organization is gained after demonstration of suitable qualities through participation in the Concert Choir.

Ready to win the hearts of the world, the Troubadours prepare to leave for the Coribbean.

Bands Provide Music, Induce Spirit

Two bands, composed of student volunteers, were organized soon after the beginning of school. The Pep Band, under the direction of sophomore Bob Kemp, provided a bodily needed boost to school spirit at home football and basketball games, and pep rollies. Directed by Mr. Richard Alderson, the Stage Band performed for the first time this year at the High School Day Talent Show. Receiving one hour of extracurricular credit for their work, these students have practiced many hours to produce entertaining groups.

Players Exhibit Theatrical Talent

The Millsaps Players is the dramatic organization of the college. Each year the Players present three or four major productions, under the direction of Lance Goss. Productions for 1966-1967 are the musical Oliver!, the Antigone of Sophocles, and Dark of the Moon.

Members of the players work on costumes, make-up, properties, publicity, and scenery, as well as acting. Membership is open to all students.

The Panhellenic Council consists of Morgie Hogg, Helen Rasebrough, Irene Carroll, Glenda Odam, Carol Ann Augustus, Sandy Newburn, Maggie Watkins, Lynn Robertsan. Not pictured: Leslie Jeanne Floyd.

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council of Millsaps College, composed of delegates from each of the four sororities on campus, is an organization whose basic tenet is respect; respect for our college, respect for our fellow students, and respect for our sister sororities.

We of the Panhellenic Council strive to maintain the highest possible standards, promote a genuine spirit of co-operation between Greek women and the college administration, and carry on the ideals of the founders of Greek letter societies for women.

We believe the fraternities are "one of the enrichments of college life. Fraternities exist because they provide a good democratic social experience; give lasting values beyond college years; create, through their ideals, an ever widening circle of service beyond the membership; answer the yearning for spiritual expression and guidance; fill the need of belonging." The Inter-Fraternity Council at Millsaps exists to foster a spirit of inter-fraternal harmony among the four fraternities on the campus and to maintain active co-operation with the members of the faculty and administration. The IFC is currently in the midst of a program of self-evaluation as it attempts to prepare itself for the future growth of Millsaps, and is seeking to find ways in which it can be of the most service to the college in the near future. Its efforts are presently directed toward the achievement and maintenance of high academic standards for fraternity men, the establishment of a more efficient and effective IFC, and increased participation by Millsaps fraternity men in all phases of collegiate and community activities and service.

The Inter-Fraternity Council is composed of two members from each of the four fraternities and these are aided by Mr. Sam Nicholas who serves as Council advisor. Offices in the Council are held also by system of rotation which places a representative from each fraternity in office each year.

Ricky Fortenberry serves as president of the IFC.

"To be womanly always; to be discouraged never." To the sisters of Chi Omega these are more than words—they are what is really behind all the owls, white carnations, and cheery songs; they are a symphony to live by. And it is this symphony of magnificent purpose that guides the lives of all Chi O's.

But Chi Omega is even more than purpose. It is an enthusiastic spirit that permeates all phases of campus life; it is rush parties, house suppers, and Irma at the winter formal. With sore muscles after the powder-puff game and paint on their noses from redecorating the house, these Chi O's are girls with high ideals, sharing an endearing bond of sisterhood—a bond that will never be broken.

Chi Omega's display their enthusiasm in the many campus extracurricular activities. The Chi Delta chapter boasts cheerleaders, campus favorites, assistants in several academic departments, and president of WSGA. Chi Omegas are members of the Players, Who's Who, the Concert and Chapel choirs, the Troubadours, the Bobashela and Purple and White staffs, the Ford Foundation Drive, Dean's List, and many campus honoraries.

The Chi Omega Fraternity, founded in 1895 at the University of Arkansas, came to Millsaps as Chi Delta chapter on March 31, 1934. The colors of Chi Omega are cardinal and straw, and the flower is the white carnation. Scholarship, character, democratic ideals, and loyalty are the foundations of Chi Omega's purposes.

Mu Chapter of Kappa Delta made its appearance on the Millsaps campus in 1897. Since then Kappa Delta girls have had reputations for being outstanding on campus. A KD does not limit her activities to Kappa Delta — in fact two KD's are officers in the Student Senate; Kappa Deltas are Homecoming Queen, Best Dressed, Sigma Lambdas and in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. This doesn't complete the list however. KD's have a special place in the busy schedules for visits to the Cerebral Palsy Home, their chapter meetings, Big Sister—Little Sister parties and the traditional White Rose and Dagger dances and the Emerald Ball.

A KD may be giggling over a burned dinner at the house, seriously discussing international problems or singing around the piano but she is always sure that she'll be welcome in her house on Sorority Row and will find a sisterhood of love.

If you are looking for a Phi Mu girl, look for a girl with unbounded enthusiasm, a disarming smile, and a warm "hi" for everyone. She's not hard to find around campus. You may discover her writing a letter to the editor or one to her adopted little sister overseas. You'll find her singing in the Concert Choir, the Chapel Choir, the Opera Workshop, the Troubadours. Her name appears on the best dressed list, as well as the Dean's list and President's list. No, a Phi Mu is not hard to find. Look for her on stage with the Millsaps Players or working hard in the publications offices. On tap day various honoraries seek her out. The president and vice-president of Sigma Lambda, president of the YWCA, secretary of the Senior Class, two dorm presidents, and three members of Who's Who are Phi Mus.

Every Phi Mu loves to get together with her sisters, whether for a house supper, a Philomathean, or a candle light service. She is equally at home on the volleyball court and the dance floor. Wherever she is found she wears her golden shield proudly, for she has much to be proud of. Founded in 1852, Phi Mu is the second oldest sorority in America. Fifty-three years ago Epsilon Chapter of Phi Mu was established as the first sorority on the Millsaps campus. Through the years the rose and white and the high ideals of Phi Mu have been cherished by the girls who have entered her band.

ZETA TAU ALPHA HOUSE

"Gee, I'm glad I'm a Zeta, yes I am . . ." You can feel the happy spirit surround you as you enter the Zeta Tau Alpha house, for the girls there find happiness in their special bond of sisterhood. Yet, each Zeta is an individual.

Zeta pins are worn by girls who create an international atmosphere from paint and cardboard for a WUS bazaar. You will find a German major who holds the Intermediate French award. Most of all, you will notice the pride with which Zetas display their social service trophy, won for the third year in a row.

And what will a Zeta tell you about her fraternity? She will say that it was founded in 1898 and has 127 chapters; that it is one of the ten largest groups in National Panhellenic Council; but most of all, that it is in the turquoise and silver, in the white violet and golden crown, that she finds a spirit of sisterhood that is not to be matched anywhere. A Zeta is a sister who, within the Zeta circle, finds the joy and understanding shared in Zeta Tau Alpha. "Yes," she will say, "I'm glad I'm a Zeta."

KA's Bill Croswell and Eugene Countiss break the ground for the new KA house.

K A P P A A L P H A

Alpha Mu Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order moves this year into a new chapter house; the culmination of years of hard work and planning by loyal alumni and half a generation of active brothers. Into this new residence shall pass the brothers now at Millsaps and those to come for a half-century or more. With them shall be carried the heritage and traditions that are Kappa Alpha; a heritage of honor and excellence, and the tradition of the Southern Gentleman in courtesy and in service.

KA's are present at the meetings of eleven of the Millsaps Greek-letter honoraries; they preside at ODK, AED, and M-Club. Seven KA's sit with the Millsaps Student Senate, one as Parliamentarian and all as committee chairmen. Some brothers sing with the Troubadours and the Chapel Choir; while others are mainstays on the football, basketball, track, and tennis teams. A KA chaired Freshman Orientation, for which more than half the counselors were Alpha Mu brothers. In addition there are KA's represented among the class officers and on the Student Ford Foundation Drive Executive Committee.

Socially there is the bi-annual Old South Ball and the yearly Black and White Christmas Ball. The KA Rose this year, Miss Caroline Tabb, is honored at each of these events.

On the intramural sports field Alpha Mu continues to be a top competitor.

KA is in top contention for the basketball and soccer titles. Each season produces its share of KA all-stars in intramurals.

Kappa Alpha emulates an ideal of fraternity life that is more than a social outlet from a rigorous academic environment. It tries to achieve excellence in every endeavor and promote total participation in the life of Millsaps and the moulding of her future.

In 1895 ten Millsaps men — some serious, others care-free, decided that they had two basic things in common; they all loved women, and each man respected the other nine men. Because of these interests, the group became officially associated as the Alpha Upsilon Chapter, of Kappa Sigma at Millsaps. This association has been passed down for over seventy years to other deserving men at Millsaps. Now there are 45 Millsaps Kappa Sigmas who love women and respect each other.

Kappa Sigmas are leaders in such honoraries as Alpha Epsilon Delta, Theta Nu Sigma, Eta Sigma, and other phases of campus life. They are outstanding in intramurals, and their interests range from the Millsaps Singers to varsity sports. A substantial number of the "M" Club members also wear the Star and Crescent.

Kappa Sigma represents a tradition of loyalty to Millsaps, and its members continually show it.

In the area of intramural athletics, the men of Lambda Chi have already taken the volleyball championship and are expecting equal success in the remainder of the year's athletic functions.

Each year Lambda Chi looks forward to its spring farmol, the Crescent Ball, and the annual coast "house party". It is good to have a party, or student leaders, or athletic champions, but at the center of this group is the strongest bond that binds, and that is the band of a true brotherhaad as the Lambda Chi Alpha's develop as men and leaders.

Born at the University of Virginia in 1868, Pi Kappa Alpha has grown to be one of the largest college fraternities in the country. Coming to Millsaps in 1905, Alpha Iota is regarded by the college as a source of leadership, talent, and social life.

The Pikes are known for their hospitality and wild parties. The annual Ole North Ball and the House Party on the Gulf Coast are major highlights of the social season, along with the Cotton Ball in the spring at which the Pike Dream Girl is announced.

Pi Kappa Alpha also boasts excellent participation in Millsaps campus life; notably, membership in Alpha Epsilon Delta, Social Science Forum, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, Theta Nu Sigma, Eta Sigma Phi, Concert and Chapel Choirs, Debate team, P&W staff, plus members of every athletics team. Offices held are president of Omicron Delta Kappa and of Kit Kat, Stylus editor, Freshman class vice-president, and Greek Week chairman.

So, as in the past, the men of Pi Kappa Alpha continue to provide their characteristic wit, party spirit, and intellectual leadership.

Closing the season with a 4-3-1 record, the Majors presented Harper Davis with his finest season since accepting the Millsaps head coaching post three years ago.

This record was also the best at Millsaps in over a decade of unsuccess on the gridiron.

Davis, with the able assistance of coach Tommy Ronager, worked with a nucleus of returning lettermen, molded a devastating passing attack with the support of an explosive running game, making the Majors not only a winning team but a team that was pleasing to the spectators.

Of course lettermen did not return at all positions, but a fine freshman crew—perhaps the finest bunch of recruits in recent Millsaps history—filled in many gaps left open by the graduation of some starters.

School spirit, long at a low ebb at Millsaps, picked up considerably with the efforts of a hard-working bunch of cheerleaders and the presence of a band. The Majors played before overflow crowds on Alumni Field and even when on the road always had a notable following.

And since many experienced personnel return for action next year, prospects for a bright football future at Millsaps are brighter than ever.

Majors Fall to Livingston State

Sure signs that a good season was to come were evident after the Millsaps footballers had opened their season with a 21-14 defeat at the hands of Livingston State in Pritchard, Alabama.

Even though the Majors did go down to defeat in the end, they showed indications throughout of the wide-open offense that was to carry them to their best season since 1954.

Quarterback Danny Neely tossed two touchdown passes for the Millsaps scores, hitting end Ted Weller with a first quarter aerial and throwing 17 yards to halfback Edwin Massey in the third quarter. Neely notched two more points following the second touchdown when he rounded right end for a conversion.

With the second score the Majors had a 14-7 lead, but the home squad bottled back to cut the margin to 14-13 entering the final period. Defensive safety Mike Caker blocked the PAT attempt to keep the Majors temporarily ahead.

The Majors maintained the lead until midway through the final period when an intercepted pass set up the go-ahead score for Livingston State with 7:49 remaining.

The Majors, who led statistics-wise in the game, were poked offensively by the passing of Neely who completed 15-23 for 208 yards. Jimmy Waide turned in an especially fine defensive effort.

Here is half of the pass catch combo of Neely to Weller that lifted the Majors to a come-from-behind victory against powerful Sewanee.

Majors Upend Powerful Sewanee 40-28 For Season's Initial Victory

Defensive halfback Mike Davidson came up quick to stop a Sewanee back and prevented a large gain.

Probably the most satisfying victory of the season was the first one, a fantastic come-from-behind 40-28 triumph over small college power Sewanee on the Tigers' home field, one of the few losses suffered by the Tennessee eleven in recent years before 1966.

The Majors had to win it the hard way, falling behind 28-14 late in the first half before the Millsaps defense settled down for a fine effort. Millsaps scored on the last play of the first half to cut the margin to 28-20 at the break, then put across three more touchdowns in the second half while holding the astonished Tigers without a point.

The Danny Neely-Ted Weller passing combination which worked well all season proved to be the demise of Sewanee as, with the Majors still trailing 28-26 in the fourth quarter, the two combined for a pair of late scores in overcoming the Tiger lead.

Neely and Weller had combined in the first half for still another TD pass, while other Millsaps six-pointers were scored by halfbacks Troy Lee Jenkins, Edwin Mossey, and Neely himself on running plays.

Majors Whitewash Lynx 26-0 For Homecoming Victory

The smile of Homecoming Queen Lynn Marshall was a smile of whole-hearted approval as the Majors stomped Southwestern.

Not in a long time has homecoming been quite as happy an occasion at Millsaps as was the 1966 version. The Majors treated pretty Queen Lynn Marshall and her royal court to a brilliant display of offense and defense in whitewashing arch rival Southwestern-at-Memphis 26-0 before the biggest home crowd of the season.

While the overflow audience looked on, the Majors started strongly in winning their third straight contest. Quarterback Danny Neely passed complete the first four plays from scrimmage, called running plays twice, hit again through the air waves to the five yard line, then scored himself from there.

Minutes later, the Majors had another scare on the board when end Ted Weller received a 19-yard scoring pass from Neely. Early in the second quarter, insurance was added when halfback Troy Lee Jenkins scored from 13 yards out, and the final tally came in the third period when halfback Edwin Massey caught an 18-yard Neely pass.

The Majors combined running and passing effectively, rushing for 174 yards and throwing for 177. Massey caught seven passes to lead in that department while Jenkins' 56 yards led the Majors in rushing with fullback Timmie Millis a close second with 53.

David Martin and Bill Milton were among the Major linemen who turned in tremendous efforts in the whitewash. The Millsaps defense turned back Southwestern three times within the Major ten-yard stripe.

Millsaps Blasts Austin College 32-18

Quarterback Danny Neely hurled a triplicate of touchdown passes, two to Troy Lee Jenkins and one to Edwin Massey, leading Millsaps to a 32-18 "Freshman Day" victory over Austin College in the third game of the season for the Majors.

The first TD drive covered 98 long yards of real estate and was ended when Jenkins hoofed it into the end zone from 23 yards out late in the first period.

The next Major scoring drive covered 70 yards and was climaxed when Massey latched onto a Neely sprint out pass and trekked 11 yards for pay dirt.

Jenkins scored the next two Millsaps six pointers on passes of 15 and nine yards from Neely. The other Millsaps TD came on a four yard effort on the part of hard hitting Major fullback Timmy Millis in the fourth quarter.

Austin's Kangaroos did all their scoring in the second half with 12 of their 18 point total coming in the wanning moments of the last period.

Jenkins accounted for 92 of the 176 yards collected by the Majors over land and gained 64 yards on pass receptions. Neely completed 13 of 16 passes, for 155 yards on this sunny afternoon on Alumni Field.

The Majors piled up 331 total yards in one of the best offensive performances of the year. Austin managed to gain 217 yards through the air but got only 98 yards over a determined Millsaps defensive line. The Majors' secondary picked off three Austin aerals.

Defensive halfback Mike Caker (20) smiles proudly after a fine game against powerful Austin.

Halfback Troy Lee Jenkins (44) proved hard to stop as seen here. Jenkins led all rushers with 92 yards and 3 touchdowns.

Majors, Randolph Macon Battle To 7-7 Tie

Playing out of town always presents a problem to the traveling team, no matter who it is. But those foreign officials sometimes present a bigger problem.

The Majors had two long touchdowns called back and a 25-yard pass that would have set up another TD on the two yard line but still managed to leave Ashland, Va. with a 7-7 tie.

In the opening period the Majors marched 64 yards for pay dirt the first time they got the ball. Halfback Edwin Massey went the last 23 yards on a pass from quarterback Danny Neely, and freshman tackle John Turcotte converted to give the Majors a 7-0 lead.

With 1:23 left in the first half, the 'Jackets scored on a three yard plunge climaxing a 45-yard drive, knotting the score.

Then came that fatal final half. Two 80-yard touchdown passes, one each to Massey and Troy Lee Jenkins, were nullified and another superb aerial from Neely to Jenkins was flagged back.

A Harding back finds the going tough against the rugged Major defense as Mike Coker makes a fine tackle from behind.

Danny Neely (12) behind the fine blocking of the Majors' offensive line prepares to launch another aerial.

Majors Fall To ATC Co-Champs

Harding College's big Bisons put an end to the Majors' six-week unbeaten string with a 28-8 triumph over the Majors on Alumni Field.

Before the Harding game, the Majors had won three, tied one, and gone through two open dates without a blemish. Harding, however, ran back the opening kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown, then scored twice more in the first quarter for an early 21-0 lead.

The game Majors never quit and scored in the third quarter when quarterback Danny Neely crossed the goal from 10 yards out. Defensive halfback Jerry Husky had intercepted a Harding pass to set up the tally.

End Ted Weller then caught a pass from Neely for two extra points to cut the lead to 28-8. Although the Majors threatened throughout the rest of the game, the Harding defenses did not allow another point.

Troy Lee Jenkins was the game's leading ground goiner from his halfback post, picking up 110 yards in 21 carries.

The Millsaps pass defense turned in its best effort of the season, holding the Bisons to two completions in eight attempts for only 17 yards. Harding's powerful backs, however, gained 290 yards on the ground in addition to scoring touchdowns on a kickoff and punt return.

Majors Tumble Maryville 21-17

TIP-OFF?—Defensive halfback Gerald Robbins (30) watches as the Major line forces a Ouachita fumble. Tackle Bill Milton (71) in the bottom of the tussle was the cause of the enemy bobble.

ANOTHER COMPLETION—Quarterback Danny Neely (12) flings a pass to freshman halfback Mike Coker (20) in Millsaps' 21-17 dubbing of Maryville's Scots. Coker capably filled in for the injured Troy Lee Jenkins. Fullback Gerald Robbins (30) provides excellent protection for Danny.

A balanced running and passing game told the whole story as the Majors chalked up yet another victory on the road at the expense of Maryville's Scotsmen, 21-17.

A look at the game statistics shows an almost evenly matched pair of small college powers, but a more accurate aerial act made all the difference in the world.

Donny Neely completed 20 of 34 passes for 206 yards and three touchdowns. Edwin Massey was on the receiving end of two of those TD passes and Ted Weller snagged the other.

Troy Lee Jenkins, sidelined on the second play of the game with a dislocated elbow, was lost for the rest of the year but still the Majors managed to rush for 152 yards.

The Majors, although playing with that ever-present away-from-home disadvantage, made relatively few mistakes. They lost only one fumble and had only one pass intercepted while intercepting a Maryville pass and recovering two Scot fumbles.

The defensive backfield, composed of Massey, Jerry Huskey, Mike Coker, and Gerald Robbins, limited the Scotsmen to only 13 pass completions in 31 attempts for 164 yards.

Linemen Ben Graves, David Martin, Bill Milton, Stanley Graham, George Self, John Turcotte, and John Hamby all played outstanding games in their respective positions. Without an all-out effort from the linemen, any hopes for victory are always hopeless.

STEPPIN' OUT—Halfback Troy Lee Jenkins breaks a tackle and checks out for a big gain against Austin College's Kangaroos. The Majors, with Jenkins playing a big role in both the running and receiving phases, whipped the Texons 32-18.

FRESHMAN SWIFTY—Mike Coker, freshman halfback from Jackson, outruns his pursuers for an important gain on a rain-soaked Maryville field. Normally a starting defensive back, Mike responded readily to his first dose of heavy offensive action and aided the Majors claim a 21-17 victory.

Majors stunned by Ouachita 21-6

Three touchdown passes by Ouachita College's Tigers spelled disaster for Millsaps in the last game of the season as the Methodists went down 21-6 but even in losing, the Majors had compiled a season to be proud of.

The Majors finished the season, with a 4-3-1 mark, the first winning season for a Millsaps football team since 1956 and the best record since 1954.

A spirited defensive line stopped the highly praised Ouachita Baptist running attack but the Majors couldn't stop their strong passing game.

The only Millsaps score came late in the final period when Edwin Massey crashed over from a yard out, preventing the first shutout for the Majors. The TD was set up by a pair of aeriels from Danny Neely to Massey, one covering 46 yards and the other a 15-yard sprint out.

Neely completed a brilliant season by completing 11 of 25 pass attempts for 159 yards, giving him a 1,322 yard tandem offense total for the year.

Here the powerful Millsaps line crushes an opposing back. The Majors' line was the key to our great season as they provided great blocking and tackling at every game.

Majors Look For Good Season

The Majors baseball team will soon take to the diamond in pursuit of a winning season with many new faces in the line-up. However the Majors can be expected to improve on last year's 5-15 record. At the present there are only four starters from last year's team, but Coach Harper Davis has five transfer students, all of whom have at least a year of collegiate baseball experience, to bolster the roster for the upcoming season. The team this year appears to be much faster than in previous years and could prove to be a formidable opponent at all times.

September found the groups competing for the volleyball championship and in the final week the Lambda Chi's pulled out the championship.

At the same time the campus was witnessing soccer for the first time due to the efforts of Hugh Gamble, who set up the entire program. This initial season ended in a tie and the KA's emerged as champions as they defeated the Kappa Sigs in the championship playoff.

The semester's activities ended with the annual Monty's Pre-Xmas Invitational Tourny. This year saw the Kappa Sigs #1 team go undefeated as they walked away with the championship this year.

Men's Intramural

Players converged on the ball in the fast and furious soccer action this year.

Millsaps today—the Stadium tomorrow??

TIP-OFF, and the action is underway in the pre-Christmas tourney.

Jerry Duck sends another smash across the net as the Pike defense attempts to get in position for an attempted return.

It's really an easy dance once you get the hang of it!

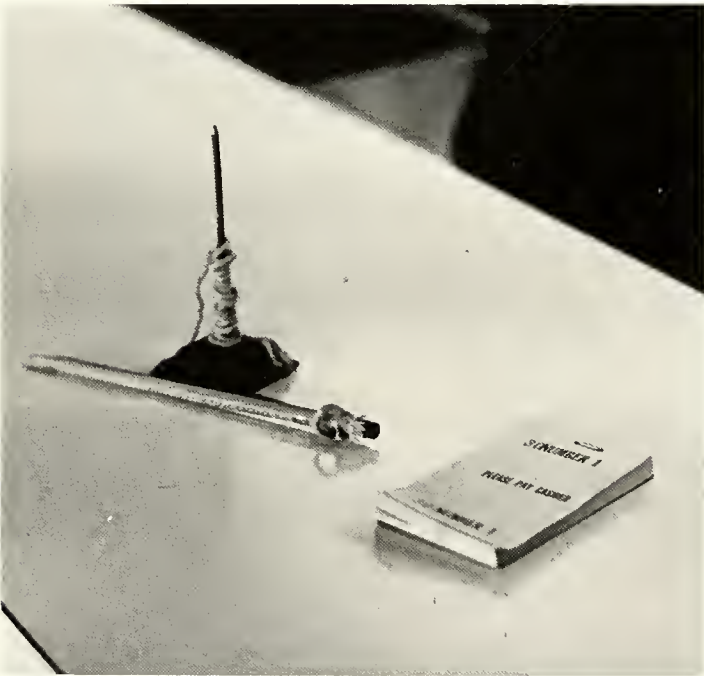

"Floss" looks on as Ted Weller puts a free throw in the air for an easy point in the Xmas tourney championship.

Yes, I will admit that they are a good looking team, but how are they at football?

Millsaps Players Production "Oliver"

As their first production of 1966-1967, the Millsaps Players presented Lionel Bart's Oliver! The musical is based loosely on Dickens' story Oliver Twist.

The curtain opens on the bleak interior of the workhouse. The boys are seen peering through the bars of a door at the back. The door is opened, the boys file to the table, and sing "Food, Glorious Food," after which Mrs. Corney and the Parish Beadle, Mr. Bumble, serve them a meager supper. Oliver asks Bumble for "more" and is instantly subdued. He is led off by Bumble, who sings the haunting "Boy for Sale." Oliver is sold to Mr. Sowerberry, the undertaker. Alone and frightened, he runs away the next morning. The Artful Dodger picks him up in the streets of London and takes him to Fagin's kitchen where Fagin welcomes Oliver and sings "You've Got To Pick a Pocket or Two." On a pocket-picking expedition the next morning, Oliver is arrested for looking guilty.

A workhouse assistant (Joe Ellis) watches the workhouse boys at their meager supper.

In the second half Nancy is seen entertaining the patrons of the "Three Cripples" with "Oom-Pah-Pah." Fagin's boys pour down the stairs telling of Oliver's capture, at the same time revealing his innocence and his present home with a rich old gentleman. Fagin and Bill Sikes dispatch Nancy, Bill's girl, to recover Oliver.

Meanwhile, Oliver hopes that his good luck will last in "Who Will Buy?" However, he is dragged off again by Nancy to Fagin's. Mr. Bumble and Mrs. Corney, now married, have discovered that Oliver is the son of a rich family, but fail in their attempt to trace him. Nancy plans to return Oliver to his benefactor at night on London Bridge. Sikes stalks and kills her and is himself killed in the ensuing chase. Oliver is returned to the old gentleman and all ends happily.

Business Managers
Barbara Davis
Mike Coker

To the Student Body of Millsaps:

We of the Bobashela staff would like to extend to you our sincere appreciation for your cooperation in helping prepare this the 1967 Bobashela. Those who have never before worked on an annual staff can not know the time, work, and patience that is required to compile an annual; and only those who have experienced this conglomeration of feelings; anger, despair, anxiety, hoppiness and accomplishment can appreciate the finished product and know that they are a part of it.

Deadlines wait for no man and when we have raised our voice at the poor little thing whose hair was mussed, the club that didn't like our background, and on various other occasions when you felt you were imposed upon, it was for a purpose. We hope you understand our position, for this is all a part of the job that must be done.

As this year comes to an end, the job is finished, and everyone goes his separate way, I would like to thank the following people who have given more than just measurable time in preparing the '67 Bobashela.
